Mr. Walter Deane,

Boston, Mass.

Dear Sir:-

forwarded from Washington,
Replying to your recent card, asking for information regarding Professor J. M. Macoun's "Reference to Trillium undulatum", I would say that the reference which I made to the matter in PLANT WORLD for April, 1903, was not quite as clearly specified as it should have been, although at the time it did not occur to me that my use of the word "note" would imply publication.

To put the matter entirely straight in your mind I enclose Professor Macoun's letter on which I based my statement in PLANT WORLD. (Please return Professor Macoun's letter at your convenience).

Yours very cordially,

E. L. Morris

Curator of Natural Science

" Ottawa, Dec. 20, 1902

Dear Sir:-

I have to thank you for your note on "Occasional Leaves of Trillium". We have unfortunately no specimens in our herbarium showing these leaves though my father and I have <sup>both</sup> noted them on T. undulatum and T. cernuum .... Yours sincerely
J. M. Macoun "
