

Davenport, Iowa,
2, March, 1884.

Dear Mr. Davenport:

I was agreeably surprised to find here last evening your kind letter of Feb. 26th, and was very glad to be allowed to hope that your children are out of danger from the fever.

Yes, I did transfer the plates after exposure from the new to the old holders. I thought my room and light safe. I feel sure that the holders and camera I am bringing west are light-proof. Will follow your advice about consulting a photographer in Tucson; Thanks. Am not surprised to hear that my developed plates got "fogged"; too careless.

I am passing a day or two most pleasantly in the herbarium and home of good Dr. Parry. Expect to start on tomorrow evening for Tucson, where I am glad to know I may expect soon to hear from you again.

Yours faithfully,
C. G. Tringle.

Pringle, Cyrus G. 1884. "Pringle, C.G. Mar 2, 1884." George Edward Davenport correspondence

View This Item Online: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/item/175072>

Permalink: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/partpdf/290817>

Holding Institution

Harvard University Botany Libraries

Sponsored by

IMLS

Copyright & Reuse

Copyright Status: Public domain. The BHL considers that this work is no longer under copyright protection.

This document was created from content at the Biodiversity Heritage Library, the world's largest open access digital library for biodiversity literature and archives. Visit BHL at <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org>.