

HARVARD COLLEGE—CLASS OF 1870

MAY 6, 1926.

Until today I had not supposed that anybody expected or wanted a Class Dinner this year; but this morning I was told that several of the class would like to have one. I have plenty of money to pay for a dinner if enough of you will come to make it worth while. It is easy to imagine a gathering so small as to be a little sombre. Commencement will be Thursday, June 24, and I shall provide a lunch at Holworthy 11, at noon. The customary time for a dinner would be the evening of Wednesday but it may now be too late to get desirable accommodations. We could probably get anything we want Thursday evening.

Will you, on receipt of this, write me whether you would come to a Class Dinner, Wednesday evening, June 23, if one can be satisfactorily arranged?

Would you come Thursday evening, June 24, if it must be had then?

Will you, when you write, say (if such be the fact) that you vote for Swan for Class Secretary. Since Ticknor's death I have called myself "Acting Secretary" but I find the authorities at Cambridge prefer to deal with a regular secretary.

If you do not hear from me again in this matter, you may understand that the Class Committee decided that your responses did not make a dinner seem worth while.

Yours very truly,

CHARLES H. SWAN.

3 Storey Place
Jamaica Plain, Mass.

Harvard College. 1926. "Harvard College May 6, 1926." Walter Deane correspondence

View This Item Online: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/item/159798>

Permalink: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/partpdf/291144>

Holding Institution

Harvard University Botany Libraries

Sponsored by

IMLS

Copyright & Reuse

Copyright Status: Public domain. The BHL considers that this work is no longer under copyright protection.

This document was created from content at the Biodiversity Heritage Library, the world's largest open access digital library for biodiversity literature and archives. Visit BHL at <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org>.