CHARLES RUSSELL ORCUTT.

SAN DIEGO, California, July 15, 1884.

Geo. E. Davenport,
Dear Sir;

I have just returned from Lower Cal.
and have succeeded in getting some more of that Woodsia which I once sent to you and I now send a dozen specimens, hoping you may be able to determine it by them. If you need more I can furnish another dozen I believe. It grows in an almost inaccessible place and is not abundant.

I have not yet found Perish's Cheilanthes and hardly expect to do so but may get in that locality this fall. Shall I return the one you sent me or shall I keep it at least for a time?

L. Cal. has been nearly inaccessible this year but I have found a few things in this vicinity,

Hastily Yours

C. R. Orcutt.
