

926 Grand Ave
Rockford Ills
May, 30th /91

My dear Mr Deane :-

I am a poor correspondent in summer time for a fact! - Reliability at all seasons
- inevitably degenerates into sheer incompetency when warm weather comes. It is not that I care less for the expression of kindly sympathies with those endeared through ties of family or of friendship - but simply that I suffer to some up an insuperable aversion to the use of pen and paper - trusting, the while that love will bear the strain -

I promise myself to turn over a new leaf when we get up to the lakes and then I will write you a long letter about my way of doing things, about which you have made flattering inquiries in your last two letters - Neither wife nor I have had much plus energy this spring - both of us have suffered from a recurrence of something like sea grippe - and with numerous demands upon all our energies of both head and heart - there has been only a feeble life stream into the daily ~~tasks~~ tasks of involved in keeping the house going - But, thus it is to be an old story and every body detests whining I should write myself down as half-sick - This only as an excuse for delay - Your letters still remain "unanswered" - Cordially Both Bebb, M. S. 1891. "Bebb, Michael Schuck May 30, 1891." Michael Schuck Bebb letters to Walter Deane

View This Item Online: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/item/159646>

Permalink: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/partpdf/297949>

Holding Institution

Harvard University Botany Libraries

Sponsored by

IMLS

Copyright & Reuse

Copyright Status: Public domain. The BHL considers that this work is no longer under copyright protection.

This document was created from content at the Biodiversity Heritage Library, the world's largest open access digital library for biodiversity literature and archives. Visit BHL at <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org>.