

My dear Deane,

6 Cushing St. Oct 17, 1908

My dear Deane, Cushing St. Oct 17, 1909 Misa culpa! Misa ipissima culpa, and I thought of it too late, but then, after all, consider that your Paul would not care about your names in such an article, I forgive me! The article itself was to me a matter of life & I decided to make it as informing & pleasing as possible, I should have been more considerate, Mrs Bailey, joining for an little cut by the sea, ran off down there today with our friend, the Society Editor of the Journal, so she too stands a chance of publicity. It is a rashy give, they get them, we see all the galleries of my poems, but I gave the critics will send them back to the galleries on publication, May write in good spirits - but find the work exhausting. Mrs B. tries daily and completely - but helps up her wonderful flesh, I myself, the rich and gum I thoroughly till lot more - with extreme indulgence and nausea, we do I receive a special gift is my weight, Of all mean they's nausea is to me the worst, I have frequent with gum dear old Paul, I cannot begin to tell you two fellows what you both are to me - as my other friends drop off, he must hang together now to the end - or hang separately, I leave to old Harold, her wife & her daughter, I just heard of publication, of the Group South, Tell me more about it.
