Ithaca, N. Y., Jan. 16 1889

My Dear Deane:

I am greatly obliged to you for your trouble in looking up Carex Porteri. I am deep into my Carex paper yet, but I do not progress rapidly. The species I am revising are all exceedingly critical ones, and they require much care. I have been two days — all the time I can put on the matter each day — on Carex miliaris, and am just now beginning to see light. It is one of the most puzzling things in all our catalogue. Hope to complete the paper this month.

I enclose check for five dollars, and hope that covers your outlay. If it does not be sure to say so. I am mightily glad of the books, I tell you.

Yours truly,
L. H. Bailey
