My Dear Deane:

I need not tell you that I am delighted over the fine translations and references you have sent me. I did not expect so many. Sometime next year I begin a series of articles on "Glass Gardens" and they are afterwards to appear in book form, — so the publisher says. I am greatly obliged for your help.

One thing more: send me Dr. Gray's recipe for poisoning plants with arsenic. I thought that I could turn right bit — in Gazette, but can't. You sent it to me once, but I lost it. Will hang bit — this time.

Yours in a hurry
F. H. Daily
