

NEW OSBURN HOUSE

ELMER E. ALMY

PROPRIETOR

Rochester, N.Y. July 9 1896

Dear Deane;

Your little plant is Pilea muscosa. It is called "artillery plant" because the pollen shoots out when the anthers open.

1. The troublesome C. tribuloides var. reducta. I don't know what to do with this pernicious cress. I am sometimes tempted to banish it by making it a species.

2. I suppose a depauperate form of Willdenow's C. foenea.

Sent wife & babies off to a summer hotel to-day for a few days, until we can settle things in the stone house on the farm.
I shall move into that house next week! With you were to be there!

Yours, for a gold basis,

F. N. Bailey
