Araneam Tarantulum, de qua abunde fabularum nugarumque laboriose doctarum audivimus, quæque ad hunc usque diem vulgi fidem et ignorantiam exercet, generant, calidiores Italiæ regiones, aliæque nonnullæ partes Europæ, arva amantem, ut plurimum, num, sicca et soli exposita. Magnitudo et colores accurate in tabula exprimuntur. In ævo, cui plenum scientiæ lumen affulsit, satis sit notare ficta et inania haberi quæ de symptomatibus morsum Tarantulæ sequentibus, non nisi musica tollendis decantari solita sunt, et apud sanos omnes totam fabulam exolevisse.

TARANTULA.

GENERIC CHARACTER.

The Tarantula, of which we have seen the texture have been detailed in the work of the learned and which even to this day continues to excite the faith and ignorance of the vulgar, is a native of the warmer parts of Italy, and some other European regions, and is generally found in dry and sunny plains.

THE TARANTULA.

GENERIC CHARACTER.

Legs eight.

Eyes eight.

Mouth furnished with two hooks or holders.

Palpi or Feelers two, the tips of which (in the males) distinguish the sex.

Abdomen terminated by papillæ or teats, thro' which the insect draws its thread.

SPECIFIC CHARACTER, &c.

Brown Spider, with the back of the abdomen marked by trigonal black spots with whitish edges, and the legs variegated with black.

The TARANTULA Spider.

The Tarantula, of which so many idle recitals have been detailed in the works of the learned, and which even to this day continues to exercise the faith and ignorance of the vulgar, is a native of the warmer parts of Italy, and some other European regions, and is generally found in dry and sunny plains.

plains. Its size and colours are accurately represented on the annexed plate. In the present illuminated period, it may be sufficient merely to add, that the extraordinary symptoms supposed to ensue from its bite, as well as their supposed cure by the power of musick alone, are entirely fabulous, and are now sufficiently exploded among all rational philosophers.
