

Wed. am. Jan 22

Dear Mr. Davenport.

I sent the B.F. on Monday and suppose you got it all right. I have been abed with the prevailing cold and do not feel right yet. I quite agree with the rest that you will do better to publish your book yourself and as soon as you send the copy will see just what the additions will cost extra.

I do not see why it can not be put through quite quickly. Shall be out as usual in a day or two —

Very truly
I.R.
