volume containing a mantissa of new species, and it is only a very few months since we received a second mantissa of new species. Such a work of course required assistance: Gyllenhal, Germar, Boheman, and other entomological authors of the first eminence, gladly laboured in describing many of the new species, their initials being added at the end of each; and so highly was the work esteemed that we believe a grant was made by the King of Sweden to effect its completion. The 'Synonymia Insectorum' therefore forms the "Monumentum ære perennius" of C. J. Schönherr.—J. O. W.
